Message from the Conference

Amidst all that is going on in our world right now, from Covid to climate change to Afghanistan to Haiti, and all the decisions that we have to make as churches about how to be community together, life-and death-go on. Earlier this month, my Aunt, Anne Parke, age 92, died in Greensboro. Her Memorial service was on Saturday, August 7th in the cemetery just up the road from her home in Greensboro, ably done by our own Ed Sunday-Winters. Over 100 people from our family, town and the Greensboro United Church of Christ gathered on a beautiful summer day to grieve together and to give thanks for her life.

My Aunt Anne spent most of her adult life living in Arlington, VA, where she was an active member of the UCC church near her. But in the summers, she would always come back to her cottage in Greensboro. In the past few years, she moved from Arlington to Stowe, where she could be closer to Greensboro and to her daughter and my cousin Mary. Every Sunday before the Pandemic after she moved, even though she was in her 80's and 90's, she would drive up to Greensboro to go to church.

My Aunt Jenny and Ed both spoke at the service about the importance of her faith for Anne. It was the foundation to her life, and shaped and molded her in so many ways. She herself was the daughter of a pastor, and so she joined Ed's Pastoral Relations Committee when she moved to Vermont full time. She was a quiet person on the whole, but Ed said that she was a consistent voice on the Committee and in the church for treating the pastor fairly. When she talked, people listened, and Ed said that she was an invaluable advocate for him.

We will all miss her terribly. God bless you, Aunt Anne.

Faithfully yours,
Paul

VTC UCC Covid 19 Update

Rate of Vermonters with COVID-19 by Town in the Last Four Weeks
Data from 07/01/2021 to 07/28/2021

With respect to everyone the Vermont Conference holds dear, the Conference office will be reopening Oct. 1, 2021 at the absolute earliest.

We do understand that this may be disappointing to some, however our main goal is to make sure we play our part in maintaining the health and safety of all who look forward to stepping through our doors.

We understand there are quite a few congregations in our conference struggling with what is best for their church. With that, we hope you find the next few articles as helpful as we did.

Covid-19 in Vermont Communities

Be Aware!

There are many different scams currently circulating whether via email, text message, or phone call.

Here are some of the best tricks (courtesy of Yahoo.com) to make sure you are not scammed!

- Hang up immediately if you hear a recording when you answer the phone.
- Avoid picking up calls from unknown numbers, even if they appear to be local. (This can be applied to emails, as well. Make sure you check the return address to make sure matches the contact information you have even if it appears the sender is a pal, family member, coworker, etc.)
- Reporting spam text messages can help cut down on another major technological annoyance.

Theme: “Leaning Into Change When We Don’t Know Where We Might Land”

Just like riding a bike, when the roads ahead of our communities shift, we need to both turn and lean into the turn to keep our balance. In this post-Covid season, we know we need to turn, but knowing how and which way to lean is both essential and hard to imagine when we can’t see the path ahead. This convocation is about learning how to lean into a turn in community, discerning the path together and building the muscles and practices to stay balanced and agile in the face of turns.

With a strong foundation in classical sacred music, our congregation now hopes to evolve our music program to include a greater diversity of musical expression. August Peacemakers' Pulpit Christopher Ashley, Norwich Congregational Church, UCC

Matthew:25, 34-35

“For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink”

I and others from our church volunteer a couple of hours each week at a Willing Hands garden. We plant, grow, and harvest vegetables to be given away at local VT and NH food shelves, social service organizations, and nonprofits. Driving home, hot and sweaty, I imagine hearing Jesus telling us to feed the hungry. I hope my relatively few hours in that garden is a way to follow in his footsteps.

Willing Hands grows vegetables in 3 gardens and “gleans” fresh food from farms, grocery stores, restaurants and wholesalers to give for free to 80 social service organizations across the Upper Valley of VT and NH. 30,000 individuals are provided annually with 4 million servings.*

I googled to see what other “feeding the hungry” opportunities are out there. I vaguely knew that there are other organizations that provide food to people all over Vermont. I found the Vermont Foodbank along with several other groups and directories of where people could get food for those who are hungry. The Vermont Foodbank distributes food at hundreds locations around the state to anyone who needs it. According to its website, over 150 VT farms and food producers are involved. They also deliver food to folks who cannot come to a distribution center. Volunteers are key in these efforts.

Many people reading this already know about these activities because our UCC Churches are distribution center locations, and many members of our Congregations already give their time. However, there is always a need for more “Willing Hands” as we work together to feed the hungry. If you are interested, please checkout one of these organizations.

The Racial Justice Task Force Needs You!!

"I joined this group because I've come to realize that all the issues of justice are interconnected, in the spirit of Traci Blackmon's keynote on Crossroads. My own passion is the environment, and you can't separate a healthy environment out from racial justice, since unhealthy environments have disproportionate impacts on communities of color, causing immense suffering. In the group, I appreciate the way we've explored many facets of activism around this issue, ranging from self-examination and book study, to political witness, to community collaborations, and as an activist myself, I've gained insight into the ways these different forms of racial justice advocacy all work together." - Fred Taylor
