It was January in San Diego, and it was raining. Still. It was in the middle of that time when there were “atmospheric rivers” – remember that? So fun! In a moment of light drizzle, we ventured outside to wander the boardwalk. The boardwalk was full - but everyone we passed wore the same, bedraggled expression. The only one seemingly unfazed by the weather was my three-year-old. She was with her grandparents, she had just had ice cream, what could possibly make it better?

One thing, as it turns out. There, on the middle of that packed sidewalk, she saw her first rainbow, and it was a good one. She froze. She dropped Grandpa's hand. She jumped like a crossing guard into the middle of traffic, waving her hands.

"Stop! Stop everybody! Look!" She cried out, circling wildly. "Look!" she cried, pointing to the rainbow. "Stop!" she commanded. "There is magic here!"

And there was. Because there, in the middle of that busy, dreary city sidewalk, so many people stopped to look that they started bumping into each other. A crowd gathered. Her joy was contagious. People laughed, and experienced a little bit of magic. Together.

In 2017, the Rev. Rona Kinsley gave an incredible sermon about her young grandson who was going through the "watch me!" phase of childhood development (that's the technical term). She remarked there are a lot of people out there shouting hateful messages in Jesus' name. Maybe, she said, it was time for those of us who followed the Jesus of compassion and love to speak up. Maybe, she concluded, there was a place for us to do a little bit of dancing, a little bit of twirling, a little bit of yelling "watch me." Maybe, just as was the case 2,000 years ago, the world need some dramatic displays of love in Jesus' name.

That's what this Sunday is about. As many of our churches gather for our fall "Homecoming!" worship, I hope we recognize what an important, sacred task we have as those who bear the name Christ. The world needs our voice. And here in Burlington, it's the 40th annual PRIDE celebration. A time when some of God's most persecuted people gather to celebrate that they are good, and beautiful, and beloved, in spite of a culture that still – even increasingly – tells them that they should feel unsafe. Who gather to joyfully yell "watch me!" in the face of all who would have them disappear.

So, if you are able, I hope you will consider bringing your congregation (or a portion thereof – even just your youth!) to worship with us at First Church in Burlington (38 S Winooski). Together, at 10 am, we will celebrate a God who promises to show up in the name of love, and we will promise to do the same. Even if you can't join us for worship, please consider joining us after, as starting at 11 we will gather with all the local UCC congregations, and have a picnic with lawn games, and face painting, and as much joy as we can handle, before walking over to the PRIDE parade together.

I can't promise perfect weather, friends. But, rain or shine, I can promise rainbows – and magic enough to spare.

In faith, and joy,
Elissa

(Rev. Elissa Johnk- The First Congregational Church of Burlington, UCC)

Vermont Clergy Convocation 2023

October 2nd- 4th, 2023

Instead of having one main speaker, many of our Vermont Conference clergy will be leading us in various sessions and listening times with the goal of building stronger community among us (and also having fun!).

Please join us!

Dear Friends,

Convocation is coming up soon, and I would be very happy to connect with each of you at the Craftsbury Outdoor Center! I find, in retirement, that I am more and more appreciative of old friendships, and the opportunity to make new ones. Spending time in community is a great gift.

I'm on the planning committee and we've come up with a wonderful mix of relationship-building activities, spiritual conversations, worship and play, all facilitated by your own dear colleagues. To me, the vibe we are aiming for is "church camp," (hoping that sparks good memories for you!).

There's still time to sign up, and those of us who are not too far away can even sleep in our own beds if we want to.

Hope to see you there,

Martha Peck

The First Wild Church Service at the United Church of Ludlow!!!

Worship was celebrated with creation in the style of the Wild Church Network (there are 140 churches in the network throughout the U.S. and Canada) reconnecting spiritually to God and each other in beloved community. After a Native American Land Acknowledgement, Opening Prayer, Scripture and song (some even danced to Siyahamba), people wandered in the natural surroundings connecting with and contemplating God's creation, then came back to the circle and shared their experiences. The hope is to make this an annual event.

Dear UCC Environmental Advocates (or Earth Lovers?),

We're entering into a time that the World Council of Churches has designated as the "Season of Creation," an opportunity to honor our connections and commitments to the Earth through worship, prayer and action. The season began on Sept. 1, and will go for 40 days until the Feast of St. Francis on Oct.4. Several churches in the Brattleboro area have embarked on a series of Sunday worship services devoted to this year's theme: "Let Justice and Peace Flow" like a mighty river. I encourage you to look through the resources on this web-site, which includes two inspiring videos and the Season of Creation 2023 Celebration Guide. Season of Creation.

The 2023 Pride Vermont Parade is set for Sunday September 10 in Burlington.

What an important time to support Vermont's LGBTQIA+ community. If you are already planning to participate - bravo!

Interested in participating?

- This is the 40th anniversary of the Pride Vermont Parade - this important solidarity event has grown from involving 350 participants in 1983 to more than 5,000 last year! This year's Pride Parade will feature a new route with the majority of the parade taking place on Main Street in Burlington. Vermont's Pride Center leaders write: "After the parade, all are invited at Waterfront Park for the Pride Vermont Festival! Let's come together as a community to celebrate our accomplishments and advocate for the rights of everyone in the LGBTQIA+ community of Vermont."
- Learn more about the Pride Center here - <https://www.pridecentervt.org/>

Many UCC congregations in the Champlain Association will be taking part again this year - we hope that the UCC will have a statewide presence at Pride!

As we have for the last several years - First Congregational Church UCC of Burlington (38 S. Winooski Avenue) - is once again inviting VTCUCC congregations to gather for the Pride Parade at First Church so that our congregations can walk together.

- Between 11:30 and 11:45am all participating in the Pride Parade - are invited to meet on the front porch at First Church - our restrooms will be open - there will be some open parking - street and parking garage parking are also available.

- Register your congregation for Pride (link below) and carry a banner in the Parade - or join our walkers.
- Coming to Burlington from a distance? If a delegation from your congregation wants to take part in Pride - and you are at some distance from Burlington - why not spend the day in the city? Join us for worship at 10am - followed by our annual - open to all - "Homecoming Sunday" picnic at 11:00. We'll head to the parade staging area just before 11:45.

Information about Pride Vermont Parade 2023 & Registration Fees:

- <https://www.pridecentervt.org/pride/>
- <https://www.pridecentervt.org/wp-content/uploads/2023/06/2023-Pride-Vermont-Parade-Registration-Fees.pdf>
- The Pride Parade staging areas open at noon on September 10.

We recommend that each church pay the parade fee separately - we are asking that the United Church of Christ congregations are once again grouped near each other. If you register on or before August 31 - the fee is $33 for a "solidarity Group" walking in the parade - a little more if you want to decorate a vehicle ($43) - or enter a full float ($53)!

Questions? Want to let us know that you will be worshipping at FirstChurchUCC/BTV in the morning - or gathering with us to walk to the parade staging area a little after 11:30? Please be in touch by email - or text or call me - 802 598 0746.
